

A&DS AND RIAS SCOTTISH STUDENT AWARDS 2019: SUBMISSION RULES & CRITERIA

CONDITIONS OF ENTRY:

- All entrants must be current students in one of the five schools of architecture in Scotland
- By taking part in the A&DS and RIAS Scottish Student Awards all students will automatically be included in the exhibition and website
- All images submitted will be ultimately under the ownership of the student and school, but A&DS and RIAS will have the right to reproduce these images for publicity, in the exhibition, RIAS Quarterly and online publication (images will not be used for profit making purposes)
- All entrants must be members of the RIAS and must register before submitting their entry (student membership is free, to find out more and become a student member click here)

AWARD CRITERIA:

There are five awards – however, students are requested to submit only for categories 1 - 3. Awards 4 and 5 will be selected by the judges from projects entered for categories 1 - 3.

1) RIAS Rowand Anderson Silver Medal for best Scottish student (prize £500)

Open to 5th year only - although an individual prize, if students have worked within groups in the 5th year, group work can be submitted alongside individual work to demonstrate the full breadth of the student's work. Groups cannot win the RIAS Silver Medal but group work is eligible for both the Sust. Award and the RIAS Andy MacMillan Award. Group work should be clearly marked as group work.

Work submitted must be from 5th year.

2) Architecture and Design Scotland Award for Best 3rd Year Student (prize £250)

Open to 3rd year only - although an individual prize, if students are working within groups, group work can be submitted alongside individual work to demonstrate the full breadth of the student's work. Groups cannot win the Architecture and Design Scotland Award but group work is eligible for both the Sustainable Award and the RIAS Andy MacMillan Drawing Award. Group work should be clearly marked as group work.

Work submitted must be from 3rd year.

3) Architecture and Design Scotland Urban Design Award (prize £250)

Open to all years - group work and individual work can be submitted. As a group or individual submission Architecture and Design Scotland Urban Design Award nominees will be eligible for both the Sustainable Award and the RIAS Andy MacMillan Drawing Award.

Work submitted must be from student's current year and must demonstrate an approach to urban context issues, masterplanning or urban/townscape design – not individual buildings within the town or cityscape! (Note: individual building designs, irrespective of how urban their location, will be disqualified).

4) Architecture and Design Scotland Sustainable Design Award (prize £250)

Open to all years (individuals and groups) - this is not a separate entry and is selected from categories 1 - 3.

5) The RIAS Andy MacMillan Drawing Award (prize £500)

Open to all years - this is not a separate entry and is selected from categories 1 - 3.

RESULTS & AWARDS CEREMONY:

The shortlist will be announced at the annual Andy MacMillan Memorial Lecture, taking place on 19th September 2019 at The Lighthouse, Glasgow. The lecture is free to attend but booking is required. Register here: <https://andymacmillanlecture2019.eventbrite.co.uk>

Following this, the finalists will be invited to attend the RIAS Convention 2019 (taking place 4th October at the Edinburgh International Conference Centre), where students will have the opportunity to exhibit their work and the winners will be announced. Finalists will receive a complementary ticket for the RIAS Convention.

PUBLICATION & EXHIBITION:

Submissions will be published online, and the award-winning submissions will be published in the RIAS Quarterly. The exhibition, which will take place at The Lighthouse in Glasgow, is for design/construction professionals and a wide public. The shortlisted students' drawings will be displayed in the exhibition.
